DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

3. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Seibert et al. USPN 6117800. Seibert discloses a material comprising microdenier fibers for the purpose of providing an aesthetically pleasing outer surface which also provides an liquid impermeable surface (col. 2, lines 27-35). Seibert discloses the microdenier material has an average pore size of approximately 100 nanometers, which is less than 1000 nanometers (col. 2, lines 36-37). Seibert further discloses the material is a laminate (col. 2, lines 1-13). Seibert does not disclose the material in a disposable absorbent article. However, the material of Seibert provides barrier properties as well as a fabric side that is comfortable and has a good hand. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to incorporate the material of Seibert in an absorbent article, such as a diaper for the added benefit of protection to viruses and good breathability, which is desired in an incontinence article.
